Staff In Library Is Dissatisfied With Student Conduct

Disturbance Traceable To Few Gossipers Is New Charge

Possibility of a renewal of the controversy over the library question loomed today, as Miss Joyce Backus, head librarian, stated that the library staff was not satisfied with the recent conduct of student in the main room during the evenings.

"I should like to ask if the students are satisfied with the conduct in the library during evenings," Miss Backus said. "The library staff isn't, and I doubt that the student committee, which is observing conditions, is satisfied either."

Unnecessary visiting in the library during evenings is resulting in growing dissatisfaction, according to Miss Backus, who believes that this new disturbance in the library is directly traceable to a few individuals.

"The student committee may decide that the students don't want the library open," Miss Backus said. The student committee, she explained has until Christmas to make its decision, and continuance of such behavior as that noted in the library lately might make them react unfavorably.

SAN JOSE WILL BE HOST TO WESTERN GROUP MEETING

San Jose State will play host to Far Western conference prexies and delegates at a student conference to be held here next year during Homecoming week.

This was the decision reached by the student council in a meeting yesterday morning.

Hugh Staffebach, one of the delegates to the Stockton prexies meet held on October 26-27, suggested the plan to have the coming conference at San Jose, and received the approval of the delegates.

Staffebach asked for official sanction from the council and Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, president of the college, favored the plan.

Staffebach and Bill Jennings, both delegates at the student confab at College of Pacific, gave a report on their trip, and outlined several discussions of interest.

The delegates reported that boxing tournaments between conference schools are being encouraged, and plans are being formed to have a debate league for the F.W.C. circuit.

DR. SOTZIN CHOSEN HEAD OF COUNTY ASSOCIATION

Dr. H. R. Sotzin head of the industrial arts department, was elected president of the Santa Clara County Industrial Education Association at a meeting last week.

Following an illustrated lecture by Dr. Raymond M. Mosher, psychological instructor, on "Techniques in Personnel Work", the subject was opened for discussion.

Propaganda, Mud Slinging Ends Today As Spartans Vote

Months of intensive propaganda and the finest mud slinging campaigning to be staged in California for many years roars to its climax today as ballot boxes gape invitation to voters.

Split into rival camps of political feeling, San Jose State college students eligible to vote today find opportunity to express in action the opinions so far expressed only in words.

Staunch and conservative supporters of the way that is and the things that are are rallying on the campus to the Merriam banner while the free thinkers, the liberals, and the "slightly pink" are expected to join the Sinclair forces.

No hope is held for the communist nominee as far as San Jose State college student vote is concerned. In the recent straw vote held here, that party polled only two votes.

Progressive Republican Haight is still the dark horse of the race but a dark horse with teeth and a definite threat to the hopes of either nominee. How much student backing he will receive is still a matter of conjecture.

New Members of Y.W. Will Be Recognized In Schofield Hall Tonight

Recognition of new members of the college Y.W.C.A. will be held tonight at 7:30 in Schofield Hall at the city "Y".

Margaret Jones is general chairman of the affair, and under her direction, services, decorations, and refreshments are being planned.

The advisory board will assist the cabinet in receiving the old and new members of the association who attend. Over two hundred invitations to the affair were sent out, and it is expected that most of these will be accepted.

Recognition Day has been held as a traditional Y.W.C.A. affair for many years. Formerly held in the Little Theater, for three years the services have taken place in Schofield Hall.

Eleanor McKnight will sing as one of the numbers on the program.

Bertha Kalm is general chairman in charge of decorations and refreshments, with Ilse Hauk assisting as sub-chairman of refreshments, and Marion Ishida as sub-chairman of decorations. Barbara Hutchings will supervise the hostesses in receiving guests.

Assisting Margaret Jones in planning the services are Harriet Feldman, Charlotte Schlosser, and Miss Caroline Leland, "Y" secretary.

Women's Federation to Give Benefit Program For County Students

As a means of raising money for the maintenance of their loan fund for Santa Clara County students, the Santa Clara County Federation of Women's Clubs is sponsoring a benefit program Friday evening in the San Jose Women's Club House, with many San Jose State college students participating.

Addresses by Mrs. Kathleen Norris, Ruth Comfort Mitchell (Mrs. Sanborn Young), both celebrated authors, and Miss Dale Winter (Mrs. Henry Duffy) will be features of the program. Miss Winter will play with Jim Fitzgerald, former editor of the College Times, in "Michael and Mary" during the program.

Music will be furnished by Arthur Jonson, baritone, Miss Violet Cowger, talented singer, and the San Jose State college orchestra. At the conclusion of the program, at which State College students will usher, refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Herbert Stockton is in charge of the program, assisted by Mrs. Dora Laughlin. The Santa Clara County Federation of Women's Clubs is composed of twenty-five groups, totaling 2000 members.

Campaign Methods To Be Discussed by Group

Torture Masters To Exert Skill Upon Tau Delta Phi Initiates

The way is narrow and beset with many perils, and he who hesitates or falters in his stride is lost.

It's a dizzy distance from the plank and chair extending from the tower to the ground below, and a mistop on the part of he who walks the plank is followed in a few seconds by a dull and crunching thud.

But that's the fun of the Tau Delta Phi initiation scheduled for tonight when the nine pledges to the men's honor fraternity will be put through their paces, according to Tau Delta Phi Ed Hillyer, Master of Torture.

From 8 p.m. until midnight the old tower room will witness again the 18 year old Tau Delta Phi plank walking ceremony and other pledge-harassing tricks evolved in the minds of fraternity members.

"TAKEN FOR RIDE"

The wee small hours from midnight until morning will find the nine pledges distributed over two or three counties, according to Hillyer, who suggests that the pledges supply themselves with maps of the highways and byways of adjacent counties.

Only the thought of revenging themselves upon the pledges of coming years will sustain the initiated during the weary hours tonight, according to fraternity members speaking from past experience.

The nine pledges who will be given "the works" tonight are Charles Tonkin, Aubrey Nunes, John White, Frank Gilliam, Frank Triena, Gene Bovee, Robert Bowman, Steve Crow, and George Rotholtz.

Crash on San Fernando Street Is Witnessed By Lunch-bound Students

Hungry San Jose State college students hurrying to early lunches were thrilled yesterday at 11:45 when a machine driven by Mrs. Emma J. Chase crashed into and partially demolished an automobile driven by Dick Marriner, San Jose State college student.

Driving west on East San Fernando street, Marriner started to swing into a U turn between fifth and sixth. His car was struck broadside by the closely following machine driven by Mrs. Chase.

Neither Marriner nor his companion, nor Mrs. Chase who was driving alone, were injured.

Marriner's left fenders, running board and door crumpled under the impact. The car driven by Mrs. Chase escaped with a bent right front fender, and crushed headlight.

$3,000 Quota Set For State College Goal, Pledges Issued

San Jose State college enacts its annual role of good Samaritan when the yearly student community chest drive starts today for a 10 day campaign.

With a $3,000 quota as its goal, the chest drive committee, headed by Charles Pinkham, begins its campus-wide canvass with the issuing of pledge-cards and posting of posters over the campus.

PREXY QUOTED

Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie president of the college pledged his support to the cause in a statement made yesterday, "I am whole-hearted with the cause, and will give it every possible support," he declared.

"The Community Chest is one of the great agencies in the cause of character-building and in these times of stress character-building cannot be overlooked. By contributing to the community chest, we are all in aiding a worthy cause. We should by all means support it."

HEADQUARTER NAMED

The college Y.W.C.A. is the headquarters for the receipt of contributions, and will be open every day during the ten-day drive from 9 until 5. Barbara Hutchings is heading a committee of "Y" members in receiving the contributions. The Spartan Spears, Sophomore women honorary society, is also assisting.

According to Katherine Hoffmeister, publicity manager of the student chest drive committee, a huge barometer will be placed near the main corridor to indicate the daily progress of the drive.

SPARTAN KNIGHTS HOLD MEETING IN NEW CLUB ROOMS

Spartan Knights, historical service group and the first men's organization to be started on this campus, held its first meeting in its new club room yesterday.

This room is in the basement of the old science wing, and has been converted into kitchen, game, and lounge room furnished with overstuffed furniture, study tables, and a round table for meetings.

It was decided at the meeting to co-ordinate a social program with the usual service to the school, as the new club room will make such a plan feasible. The annual Spartan Spear-Spartan Knight party will probably be held sometime this quarter in the new quarters. Other social functions will include get-togethers, smokers, and luncheons.

As one of its services this year, the Knights have decided to assist in the Community Chest campaign.

The Challenge

A recent editorial in the Daily Californian, student publication of the University of California, begins with the following words, which needless to say, hit us in the eye: "Without wishing to stir up any feud between the embryonic student editors of State Teachers Colleges and Junior Colleges, we nevertheless can't resist the opportunity to 'let you in' on an editorial published in the Fresno Collegian sometime ago."

While we could say a great deal on the subject of the Fresno editorial (liberalizing State Colleges), we prefer to pass lightly over that issue in favor of resenting the Californian's decidedly uncomplimentary reference. Their statement, which was probably intended as a playful, big-brother dig, nevertheless reflects an attitude which has become quite popular in recent years regarding higher educational institutions other than universities. The Californian obviously considers all the teachers colleges and junior colleges of the state just as "embryonic" as their student editors; whereas it is a known fact that the state teachers colleges are recognized as leaders in the field of education—progressive methods originate and flourish in our "embryonic" system.

As for the liberalization question, may we humbly, somewhat apologetically, offer an argument against the Californian's assertions that "instead of having two outstanding state universities with their hundreds of nationally respected educators, we would have a flock of mediocre, isolated, small schools" and that "University students from all districts and cities of California who realize the advantages of one unified educational system will not tolerate any attempt to wreck the two existing state universities."

While we are quite aware of the fact that the University is solicitous for their own welfare (rightly so, of course) we can't resist thrusting their own statement back at them as contradictory to their argument against liberalizing the state colleges. The "unified system" which they profess is represented in two universities is in reality just a unit in itself—to liberalize the colleges so that the four year course leading to the degree would be obtainable in all of them, then we would have "one unified educational system."

In our opinion this would not hinder any institution from acquiring national standing for specialization in any field, nor would it prevent continued success and recognition or nationally known and respected educators. The educational facilities of the state would not be "wrecked", but one co-operative system would be created whereby all the educational institutions would be working in harmony to a definite end.

THE HELPING HAND

WORLD NEWS HIGHLIGHTS

To be determined by vote, today are two of the hottest political contests ever to be staged in this county and state.

Landed in Los Angeles yesterday after a two-hour flight from Oakland, terminus of their 7350 mile flight from Australia, were Charles Kingsford-Smith and his navigator, Captain P. G. Taylor

In Washington yesterday the Supreme Court decided that Huey P. Long is not immune from legal action because he is a member of Congress and that he must stand trial in a $500,000 libel suit resulting from a speech he made in the Senate.

Showered with a barrage of eggs and tomatoes at Berkeley yesterday were 16 University of California students who were meeting to sponsor a one-hour strike in protest to suspension of five U.C.L.A. students for alleged radical activities. The eggs and tomatoes were thrown by students not in sympathy with the strike, who greatly outnumbered the strikers and who booed and sang when any of them attempted to deliver a speech.

For criticizing a candidate for governor of Oregon and members of the state board of higher education, Douglas Polivka was ousted from editorship of the University of Oregon Daily Emerald yesterday and William Phipps was named successor. Phipps in turn discharged Newton Stearns, managing editor, for allegedly refraining from publishing material Phipps had ordered to appear in one edition of the paper.

CORRECTION!

The contribution entitled "Faculty Attitude Places Check on Free Confidences" in Monday's issue of the Spartan Daily was written by M.W. Fowler, not "May Fowler". A mechanical error was responsible for the mistake.

Just Among Ourselves

By Dr. T. W. MacQUARRIE

Note: This column is personal between the president and the college. Outsiders are requested not to make use of the material.

It took a lot of courage, of which he has plenty, for Dr. Ernest V. Moore to fire those student agitators at U.C.L.A. I have no information about it other than the news reports, but I know Dr. Moore so well that I feel sure his action was well considered. Dr. Moore is an outstanding scholar, something unusual these days in executives. He's a fine, sympathetic, cultured, charming gentleman. Courage to burn. He made U.C.L.A. Fought the reactionaries then as he does the radicals now. For ten years he carried his resignation around with him in his pocket. That's the way to fight. Willing to go the limit. I suspect he has looked up his old, pocket-worn resignation and is again carrying it around with him. Of course, he'll be panned, maligned, spit upon. There will be the old howl of personal liberty, free speech, rights under the constitution. Dr. Moore will not be fooled by that. He knows the constitution as well as anyone, and certainly knows a smoke screen when he sees it. He knows that there has been no restriction of honest, free speech at U.C.L.A. There has been no attempt to limit fair minded discussion, no desire to conceal the facts. He, however, sees in the whole move the claws and teeth and firearms of vicious revolutionaries, not students, remember, but outsiders who are using temper-mental youngsters for their own rotten ends.

It's something the colleges and universities must be concerned about. Small bands of inspired agitators attempt to dominate the institution. Everything is wrong but themselves. In their utterances and their publications, they make the wildest, most intemperate, attacks upon administration, faculty, and fellow students. Facts are unimportant. Lies and vicious statements abound, and they keep it up to the detriment of the whole organization.

Clear thinking students at the University in Los Angeles are not. I am sure, taking any part in the recent agitation. They have no intention of limiting those scholarly faculty members in their efforts to give the fine service which they are capable. They have no intention whatever of dispensing with the present courageous clear thinking and sympathetic administration to turn it over to a group of wild-eyed paranoids who know nothing, and can do nothing but screech.

I'm proud of Dr. Moore. I have always admired him, and I am sure he has done the right thing. Only for that great University for those very youngsters who want such easy marks, such gullible accomplices as to be taken in by seeking and irresponsible outsiders. I believe in freedom of speech and action, but when it interferes with the freedom of speech and action of others, then it is beyond constitution and deserves no consideration.

Intramural Speedball Tournament Begins Today

THE SPORT SPOTLIGHT

By Bob Spotswood

Les Carpenter, the most least-talked of player on San Jose's team and yet one of the very best. Carpenter was throwing the Dittenbirs and Van Osdells all over the Fresno Stadium Saturday. George Cannell, another greatly under-rated football man. Amos Stagg in the press box, scouting the Spartans and dictating notes to his Frau. Brick Mitchell there recalling the days when Becker and Barr played on his San Mateo High team. The Nevada coach still refers to them as "his boys." Mitchell was having a look at the Bulldogs, whom the Sagehens battle in two weeks. "Si" Simoni ought to get a tumble from the East-West game officials. The Spartan leader is playing sensational ball and has personally conducted San Jose to victory over Nevada and a tie with Fresno. San Jose really looked strong Saturday, and should have stopped the Fresno touchdown.

Quotation from Stanford football squad enroute to U.C.L.A.: "California will beat Santa Clara Saturday—The Broncos are a good passing team, but their line is ordinary—California has too much power—Broncos over-rated." Final score; Santa Clara 20, California 0.

Portal's freshmen looked impressive against Fresno despite the 20-6 score against them. The Spartan yearlings shouldn't have lost by a two touchdown margin. "Bull" Lewis is all that they say he is and more. In one play he blocked three men out Saturday. Westall, Buffet, Slingluff, Hudson Rianda, Hesse, and Costa are other frosh who will get the glad hand from DeGroot next season. Special train down to the game was O.K. but not so good as the trip up to Davis. The journey to Stockton for the Pacific game will be the best one of them all. Jerry Whitaker played sixty minutes against Fresno, and gave a 35 pound advantage to the Fresno center. Brick Mitchell said that San Jose was the better team and that the Spartans should not have called a time out with 30 seconds remaining before the conclusion of the first half with the Bulldogs on State's 2-yard stripe. Mitchell is also of the opinion that Pacific is stronger than Fresno, stating that the Bengals had a let-down after battling Cal and U.S.C.

DeGroot's shock troops were injected in the game Saturday during the fourth quarter to give the first stringers an opportunity to catch their breath, and instead of merely holding the Bulldogs even-up, the troopers put on quite a drive themselves.

A first string backfield was in there, and they went slashing through the holes in the forward wall opened up by such men as up to date have been known as "second stringers", but who looked every bit as well as the first string.

Williamette University from Salem, Oregon, comes to town Monday to joust with the Spartans and according to reports from the Northwest, the Bearcats have quite a ball club.

The boys from Salem are leading the Northwest conference, composed of such teams as Linfield, College of Idaho, Puget Sound, and Whitman. Williamette has run up some impressive scores and also made a very creditable showing against Oregon State.

The Homemaking department was started at San Jose State in 1911.

F.W.C. In Triple Tie With San Jose, Chico, Fresno On Top; Pacific In Win

CONFERENCE STANDINGS

San Jose	1	0	3	1000
Fresno	1	0	1	1000
Chico	1	0	1	1000
Nevada	0	1	1	000
Pacific	0	1	0	000
Cal Aggies	0	1	2	000

Results of conference teams in week-end games:

San Jose—7 Fresno—7

Chico—6 Cal Aggies—3

Pacific—6 Cal Ramblers—0

CHICO WINS

By NORM THOLE

That Chico beat the Cal Aggies is true enough, and gives the Wildcats a tie for the conference lead. The boys from Chico have two more hard conference battles ahead of them before the season is closed. The highlight of the Wildcat-Mustang game, by the way, which ended 6-3, was the 45 yard drop-kick by Coombs. While aided by a stiff wind, this feat is not accomplished every day. Otherwise, the game was played on a mud soaked field with little action displayed by either team.

The dopesters have Cal Aggies scheduled to take another one on the chin when they meet the powerful Pacific Tigers. Least we forget the way of these underdogs, just recall the San Jose-Chico game last year, when the Wildcat rose from his lair and smote the Spartans most viciously knocking them from the conference championship. So—anything can happen in this man's game of football.

SIMONI AGAIN

Captain Si Simoni covered himself with glory again this week by giving Fresno, in no certain manner, a very bad afternoon. By blocking one of Van Osdell's punt in the third quarter and recovering the same for touchdown and then converting, the score was tied to score up another tie for both San Jose and Fresno on their conference record. Whereas a win for the Spartans would have put them in a two-way tie for the conference lead, a tie leaves them the third party of a three-way tie for high honors between San Jose, Chico and Fresno.

For the best interests of San Jose, Nevada should beat Fresno. This would drop Fresno down the ladder without helping Nevada as they have lost a game already.

Williamette Game to Be Played Monday

Webster Benton, graduate manager, announces that the San Jose Williamette University game scheduled for Saturday has been set for Monday, Armistice Day, the contest following a gigantic Armistice Day celebration.

The change in dates also avoids any conflict in interest with the Stanford-Washington game this Saturday. The Palo Alto contest will undoubtedly draw quite a gathering from San Jose and with the Williamette date changed to Monday, the battle in the Spartan Stadium should attract a large crowd.

Fresno will probably win their other league game which happens to be with the Cal Aggies who now hold the cellar position.

PACIFIC BEATS RAMBLERS

That highly publicized Pacific varsity which held the California Bears to a 7-6 margin several weeks ago turned in a win over the Cal Ramblers this week-end, and showed that they are just as good as they have been publicized. The Cal Ramblers are far from being a set-up, and a win over Nevada. Pacific showed their 7-6 game with the Bear varsity was no fluke, and by beating the Ramblers sounded a warning note to the Spartans to come primed for a battle on November 17. Pacific may have dropped several games this fall, but they still have a mighty sweet ball club, and are gunning for a win over the De Grootmen.

Both Williamette and Whittier, who meet the Spartans on November 11 and 29, are going great guns. Williamette in defeating Pacific University 34-0 last Saturday, has virtually cinched the Northwestern conference, while Whittier with a 26-6 win over San Diego State is already assured of the Southern California Conference title. If San Jose can put over a win on these two teams, it will make the Far Western Conference look pretty good.

SOCCER TEAM DROPS GAME BY 6-1 SCORE TO SAN MATEO J.C. SQUAD

Charlie Walker's soccer team lost a hotly-contested game to a fighting San Mateo J.C. squad, Saturday. The final score was 6-1, but five of these points were chalked up in the first half, and the coach's half time talk showed its effect on the score in the last half.

Although San Mateo's scores in the first half were mostly from lucky shots, the powerful San Mateo offensive play, centered around their halfbacks, might have been checked by more brilliant play by our inside men. The game of these men improved greatly in the last half.

The last half was closely fought, State rallied, Main booted a goal, but the game had been lost in the first half.

San Mateo is considered one of the strongest teams in the conference.

Interclass competition in speedball will start today with the following games scheduled:

12:10 Seniors vs. Juniors.

21:35 Sophs vs. Frosh.

A single round-robin schedule will be played in speedball. The following rules will be in effect: All men are eligible to compete in the games as in touch football, two 12 minute halves will constitute a game. A team to claim a forfeit must have eleven men present ready to play at the scheduled time. Regulation speedball values will be in effect except that the goalie may use his hands on the ball in the goal area.

The intramural touch football which finished last Thursday was one of the most successful since the start of the intramural competition. The Juniors won on the basis of games won and lost but hold only a slight lead over the Frosh, who gained more points than the Juniors in the number of men participating. The Sophs finished in third place, while the Seniors gained undisputed possession of the cellar by their ability to forfeit.

Jack Reynolds Praises Courtney Extended To S.J. Rooters by Fresno

An expression of appreciation for the courteous, friendly treatment extended to San Jose State college students who attended the game at Fresno Saturday was made yesterday by Jack Reynolds, chairman of the Rally committee.

"Free admission to the game, free transportation to the stadium, and a free lunch for the band after the game were among the courtesies extended," Reynolds declared.

"In addition to this," he said, "a section on the shady side of the field was reserved for San Jose rooters, who came away with the feeling they had been given a lesson in intercollegiate manners."

DR. JAMES C. DEVOSS IS DELEGATE TO Y.M. MEETING IN CLEVELAND

War prevention, the youth movement, and the consolidation of the college Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. were the principal topics discussed at the National Council Meetings of the Y.M.C.A. held in Cleveland recently according to Dr. James C. DeVoss, head of the personnel department of San Jose State, who was a delegate in his capacity of President of the Board of Directors of the San Jose Y.M.C.A.

Bruce Bliven, editor of the New Republic, and Newton D. Baker, National Head of the Community Chest, were among the main speakers at the conference.

Enroute to and from Cleveland, Dr. DeVoss visited the Emporia State Teacher's college at Emporia, Kansas, the University of Nebraska, and the University of Chicago, where he conferred with Dean Drumbaugh, head of the personnel department there.

With regard to the business trend in the cities in which he visited, Dr. DeVoss stated, "There is a feeling of optimism among the business men. They believe that the depression is practically over, and that conditions are definitely improved."

SPARTAN SENATE WILL LISTEN TO VOTING RESULTS

Spartan Senate will hold its third meeting of the quarter at the home of Adrian Wilbur, 465 South 14th street tonight. After the business meeting, the group members will listen to election returns.

At a recent meeting seven new members were initiated into the Senate, honorary debating society of San Jose State. They are Mae Wilburn, Bertha Potts, Robert Rector, Kay Woods, Leroy Morgan, Richard Hughes, and Eleanor Yates.

Membership in the future will be determined by participation in three inter-collegiate debates.

Debate coach Ralph Eckert is adviser for the group; Adrian Wilbur is president.

Visual Education Is Topic Of Speech

Visual education was the subject of a talk given Friday by Mr. George Stone, instructor in photography in the State science department, before the students in two classes in primary curriculum.

Mr. Stone emphasized the value of stereoscopes, stergographs, and pictures from magazines in their relation to the social studies and natural sciences in primary work.

The art course at State, at first only consisted of drawing and color work.

Police Department Executive Chosen By State President

Mr. William A. Wiltberger has been appointed head of the department of police training, according to an announcement made by Dr. T. W. MacQuarrie, president of San Jose State, yesterday.

Mr. Wiltberger will take over the course in police history, previously conducted by Dr. MacQuarrie but will spend the greater part of his time in organizing the training program, outlining courses, and consulting with various police authorities in the community.

The new department head is a graduate of the University of California, and was for seven years associated with Chief Vollmer of the Berkeley police department.

He also attended the University of Chicago when Chief Vollmer was professor there in charge of police administration.

For several years Mr. Wiltberger was Chief of police in Evanston, Illinois, and has recently been engaged as a police expert in making surveys of the organizations in the middle west.

Husbands are considered only indirectly by teachers in the home-making department at State, but the large number of graduates from this department who marry indicate that this phase is not overlooked.

Play Readers Hold Bi-Monthly Meeting Tonight To Discuss Possible Radio Plays

The San Jose Play Readers are about to go, not up in the air, but on the air.

According to Dean Cowger, president of the organization, college talent from the group will soon be presented to the radio public over station KQW.

At the meeting, to be held tonight, at the home of Mildred Warburton on south 5th street, short plays and skits suitable for broadcasting purpose will be read to the group.

At their last meeting, the drama club members discussed three short plays that might be used for the radio: "Oft In The Silly Night", "A Sisterly Scheme", and "The Color Line".

New members of Play Readers who were voted upon at the last meeting of the year are Marion Faltersack, Farecita Hall, Geney Hoaglan, Anne Isaksen, Nell Richmond, Marie Kuhagen, Marguerite Lee, Margaret Nies, Ruth Phipps, Anthony Maffey, and Mr. William Sweeny, of the Speech Arts faculty, who has been made an honorary member.

To age and mellow tobaccos
just right to give Chesterfield its milder better taste...

it takes Time

WE have tried a good many methods to age cigarette tobacco, but we have never found any method that equals the slow old-fashioned plan of ageing it in wooden casks for two years or more.

All the tobaccos we use in Chesterfields are aged this way.

It takes time, money, and miles of warehouses—but it's the one way to make a milder better cigarette.
